

Oestrogen enters the cell

It binds to a receptor on a transcription factor

This causes a conformational change (change of shape)

The transcription factor enters the nucleus

It binds to a DNA sequence and causes transcription to start